

Y. M. CAMPAIGN IS STARTED TODAY

Mass Meeting Here Culminates Series of Meetings Throughout County on Sunday

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY SPEAKS

Two Rush County Boys at Camp Taylor, Ky.. Also Talk—Organization Here Thorough

With a mass meeting at the Main Street Christian church last night culminating a series of meetings during Sunday throughout the county, the Y. M. C. A. drive to raise $7,500 for the war fund was well under way today.

A large crowd heard E. A. Lower, Y. M. C. A. secretary at Camp Shelby, Miss., speak enthusiastically last night of what is being and has been accomplished by the Association. In closing, he said that he would look up any Rush county boy at Camp Shelby if a request came to him by mail.

The two Rush county boys, Sergeant Eli Kinney and Leonard Barlow, of Camp Taylor, who were sent home by the army to aid in the Y. M. campaign made several convincing talks yesterday. Eli Kinney spoke at the United Presbyterian and Christian Sunday schools in this city in the morning. Leonard Barlow spoke at the Moscow Sunday school in the morning, at the meeting held in Milroy yesterday afternoon, when Mr. Lower talked, and at the Big Flatrock Christian church last evening.

The meeting held at the high school auditorium in Milroy yesterday afternoon displayed great interest in the Y. M. work. A very forceful address was given by E. A. Lower before an audience of about 200 people. Mr. Lower also delivered a message in the interest of the work at the Methodist Sunday

FAIR NOT LIKELY TO BE ABANDONED

Motion Passes to Discontinue it if County Doesn't Help—Such Step Improbable

APPROPRIATION TO BE SOUGHT

Although a motion was passed near the close of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Rush County Fair association late Saturday afternoon, providing that the Rush county fair be abandoned if the county council does not vote the appropriation allowed the fair by a state law, the opinion among stockholders today was that the fair would not be abandoned even though the council did refuse the appropriation.

The fair association will likely be represented at the meeting of the county council, which will be held near the close of the year, to present its claim for the appropriation. The county council has refused in the past to vote any money for the support of the fair.

A member of the board of directors today said that he believed the fair would be held anyway next year because it made a better showing this year than it had in many years. There was a deficit of only $120 this year. He declared many stockholders would oppose throwing the fair association into the hands of a receiver, which would probably prevent such action were it attempted.

A. L. Stewart was made president of the organization in place of Frank Cross, and Mr. Cross was made vice-president.

APPEAL TO WAGE EARNERS

Y. M. C. A. Campaigners in New York Ask One Day's Wages

New York, November 12.—An army of 250,000 workers in every important city and town in the United States today began a week's campaign to raise $35,000,000 for the war work of the Young Men's Christian Association. The 25,000 separate committees that have been organized will overlook no one in the drive for money. A special attempt has been made to interest the wage-earners to contribute one day's pay, the slogan being, "One Day's Pay for the Soldier Away."

A number of large corporations have announced they will give

SORORITIES WILL REMEMBER SAMMIES

Tri Kappas and Psi Iota Xi Will Send Gifts to Soldiers Through The Red Cross

TEACHERS TO REMEMBER BOYS

Already Christmas packages are being prepared for the Sammies in France. The Tri Kappa and Psi Iota Xi sororities are each arranging packages for American boys in active service. The Tri Kappas will send 24 and the latter will send 20. The local Red Cross has offered to pack and ship these gifts and those that any other organization might wish to send to the soldiers abroad. The Christmas packages have to be at the local headquarters by Wednesday evening of this week and must meet the requirements set by the Red Cross for Christmas gifts. No perishable foodstuffs can be sent. The gifts will be sent from the local headquarters to the state warehouse and then directly to France.

Several other organizations are planning to remember the soldiers in this country on Christmas. At institute Saturday, the teachers of the city voted to send a Christmas package to each boy who had been in the local schools.

PASTOR GIVEN AUTOMOBILE

An automobile was presented to the Rev. and Mrs. P. O. Orrt of the Rays Crossing Christian Union church following the service yesterday morning. One hundred and eighty-two attended Sunday school and the offering of $57 was given to the Y. M. C. A. of the army and navy. An old folks choir, consisting of persons between 60 and 85 years of age sang at the morning service.

Rush County Boys in Service Testify to Y.M.C.A.'s Value

Many Rush county boys in the service of Uncle Sam have been invited by the Daily Republican to give their views of the Y. M. C. A. as they have come in contact with it in the various training camps in all parts of the United States. Many of the boys have responded with letters, praising the Association in most glowing terms for the wonderful work it does and revealing in what high esteem it is held by the enlisted man. A few of the letters following will certainly have the effect of showing many persons who had expected to close their purse against the Y. M. C. A., that it is their plain duty in helping Rush county raise her allotment of $7,500 toward the Y. M. C. A. war fund of $35,000,000 this week:

Great Asset To Men

(From Edwin G. Watson Co. "M," 4th P. O. B. Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.)

In the Army there is the greatest need for religious and moral surroundings because of its very nature and construction. Men have a day off after a week of the most strenuous kind of work and are not always disposed to spend that day or any part of it in devotion. It may be there is no opportunity to do so even if desired because of the location of the camps. While many permanent forts or garrisons have churches and places of worship on them, there are some of the temporary camps that are not so equipped. It is here that the Y. M. C. A. plays its most important part. Besides giving a loafing place in the best environment through the week for the men, it also affords a place of worship for those religiously inclined and who are willing to avail themselves of the rare opportunity of going to a Sunday meeting—along somewhat religious lines—who perhaps might not do so if compelled to leave the post in order to attend a religious meeting.

Outside of any religious influences, it is a great asset to the men and thereby to the camp or post to have a Y. M. C. A. It gives a place for all to congregate and get fairly well acquainted and to spend their surplus time and money. In the Y. M. here there is a swimming pool, pool and billiard tables, bowling alleys, magazines, books and writing tables and stationery. It is a great convenience to have all these amusements and necessities under the same roof and in a handy location.

Thus, the well regulated Y. M. C. A. in an Army camp affords a place to attend religious meetings and to while away the few idle hours in some entertaining and harmless way.

Ministers To Needs

(From Russell Kirkpatrick, Base Hospital 32, Fort Benjamin Harrison.)

The army Y. M. at Fort Harrison maintains three buildings and one tent with a staff of 18 secretaries. It ministers to the needs of the men in camp in every way possible. In each building there is a free circulating library of several thousand volumes. All kinds of athletic goods are freely loaned. There are also long distance telephone booths. The Sunday meetings are held as follows: discussion groups at 8:30; preaching at 9:30; Sunday school at 3 and song service at 7:15.

During the evening the Y. M. is a meeting place for all of the men and officers. There is always some entertainment, wrestling and boxing bouts, moving pictures, vaudeville entertainment and lectures. The secretaries want every one to feel free to call on them and know the Y. M. is there to serve. It rejoices in having the opportunity to have some share in helping the Great Cause.

Camp Social Centers

(By Ross Hutchinson, Company R, Marine Barracks, Paris Island, S. C.)

At the risk of tiring the public, I wish to make another appeal for the Y. M. C. A. I understand that next week (this week) will see a big drive made by their forces for the purpose of financing an extension of their field of operations. This letter is not to be considered an appeal of one man but the combined request of all men in the field for Uncle Sam. This represents the solid sentiment of the camp here.

The Y. M. C. A. represents to us all the diversions we get and a major part of the help we receive either spiritually or in a business way. It represents the social centers of the camp. They have two buildings which are entirely at the service of the enlisted men. There we can obtain free stationery, buy stamps, obtain books, join the French classes, read magazines, attend moving picture shows and home talent plays, play various games, have access to a Victrola and piano in each and last but not least, are the religious meetings. They come to us in the broadest terms of Christianity and belong to no creed but try to be brothers to us. The workers are all men of tact who have been chosen especially for the work. In a business way, they encourage thrift and economy, try to prevent gambling, keep the money we trust them with. All of this is not done through meddling or intruding but in a kindly, brotherly way that one cannot resist.

That is the Y. M. C. A. as it is here. It is the sole means of entertainment in what would be a hell if it were absent. To do these things, it must have support—the help of those back home. It does these things for all, things which are indispensable because they are the things which prevent us from reverting to beasts. Are you, the citizens of Rush county, going to let your boys or the boys of the country lack in these things in any camp of our forces because you could not stand to put up a few petty dollars? The men in the United States service today have given up all for the sake of fighting for your liberty and all they ask of you is to support them. Not to do so is to brand yourself as a "slacker." That is the height of ignominy in the service today. Do your bit for the boys in the service.

Creeps Into Daily Life

(From Howard Miller, New London Conn.)

I am glad of this opportunity to help along a cause that is at the same time helping me, as well as every man or boy that is enlisted in his country's service. I don't believe that there are any of us but whom are directly in touch with the Y. M. C. A. in more ways than one. No matter how small a unit one is attached to, a branch of the Y. is right there with him. Such, at least is my experience. In Newport, R. I. boys from the

ANOTHER NAME ADDED COUNTY HONOR ROLL

Oscar H. DeHort, Signal Corps, of Falmouth Has Been in France Since Early in War

PULLIAM'S REGIMENT IS 26th

The name of another Rush county boy serving his country in France was received today, making fifteen recorded on Rush county's roll of honor. He is Oscar H. DeHort, signal corps, A. E. F. Young DeHort is the son of John DeHort of Falmouth. This information was received in an unsigned letter and any person or persons knowing his company and regiment should inform the Republican at once so that if there are any who wish to remember him at Christmas, they may mail their gifts by November 15, in accordance with postal regulations, so they will reach the trenches by Christmas.

Young DeHort learned telegraphy a little more than a year ago in the Pennsylvania office at Falmouth and later worked for a railroad in Wisconsin. In January of this year he enlisted in the signal corps and was assigned to Fort Dewey, N. Y. He was undoubtedly the first Rush county boy to go across because he left soon after war was declared. He is a widely known and well liked boy of the Falmouth community. Information was received today that Arthur Pulliam's address was given wrong last week. He is in the 26th instead of the 20th Infantry. His company is M, as stated last week.

W. A. Posey, who recently underwent two operations at Cincinnati, will be brought to his home west of the city this evening. The train will stop at his farm.

NO SECOND DRAFT WITHIN 3 MONTHS

Classification of Registered Men, Which Will Require 60 Days, Begins December 15

DIVIDED INTO FIVE CLASSES

Regulations and Questionnaires Not Public Until They Reach the Local Board

That the second call for selected men from Rush county will not come before the middle of next February is indicated by the announcement at Washington of the foreword to the new regulations, written by President Wilson.

Since the war department estimates that the process can not be completed in less than sixty days and that the period of classification does not begin until December 15, it is certain that none will be called in the second draft inside of three months.

The regulations and questionnaires which more than nine million registrants will have to fill out have been forwarded to the local selection boards, but will not be made public until they reach the boards.

The inquiry projected in the questionnaire will go deep into the qualifications of each of nearly 10,000,000 men. The success of the plan and its completion within the estimated time rests absolutely upon the whole-hearted support given by the people, especially by the doctors and lawyers of each community, and the President calls upon them for that unstinted aid.

The President describes the new plan of dividing all registered men not already mobilized into five classes, subject to military service by classes as being intended to produce "a more perfect organization of our man power."

MANY INTERESTED IN FRENCH WAR ORPHANS

Address of Organization is Given For Benefit of Those Who Wish to Support Child.

LETTER AROUSED SYMPATHY

Many inquiries have been received by Dr. Frank H. Green about the organization for the support of the fatherless children of France, since a letter was published a few weeks ago from a French child supported by Mrs. Green. The child's letter aroused the sympathy of many people, who never before realized the plight of the children of France.

Since it has been found that a child can be supported for ten cents a day, several organizations here have made inquiries with the idea of taking a child to support. The Indianapolis branch of the organization is located at 209 Hume Mansur building. Persons who wish to help the little folks of France may send money to this address for any number of days and the receipt will be sent, together with the name of the child and address, and a letter to the little one in French. When offering to support a child, the person should state the age and whether a boy or girl is wanted.

Anyone who wishes to be of material assistance to the French orphans in another way may send old clothing to M. Michelin, 1820 North Meridian street, Indianapolis. He is in charge of an agency for cleaning, mending and expressing such packages. Shoes particularly are wanted as they are selling in France at from $15 to $20 a pair. The French people are tremendously appreciative, as was revealed by the letter received by Mr. Green and published recently.

An authoritative dispatch dated at Moscow yesterday at 4 p. m. and received today declared there was considerable street firing in progress there and that the provisional troop were doing well.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Nov. 12.—Fresh evidences that the Bolsheviks' revol in Russia is collapsing reached the state department today. Official messages relayed through Persia said Kerensky had reached army headquarters and said that the uprising apparently would be short-lived.

The message did not state, however, as to Kerensky's progress as to leading the army against Petrograd.

The Russian embassy still pinned its faith on Kerensky, Korniloff, Kalendines, the three strong men of Russia. Korniloff, only recently in disgrace and with his life in Kerensky's hands, today loomed up as the possible savior of his country. Entente and Russian officials admit that they are counting on the Korniloff to restore discipline in the army. On Kerensky they placed the burden of untangling the political fabric out of which is to emerge a stable government. While the embassy was without official information regarding the rapid turn of events, a decidedly optimistic feeling prevailed today.

All along officials have declared positively that the Bolsheviks could not endure.

The Maximalists menace will be permanently disposed of by Kerensky was predicted by Russian embassy officials.

From the fact that the state department's message took a round about course, it was apparent that communication out of Petrograd was still closed when it was sent.

Laport—Greater activity in manufacturing in the plants of the Advance-Ramley company was predicted by an official of the company. He stated that the working force will be greatly increased as soon as arrangements can be made.

WOULD BURY DEAD SOLDIERS AT HOME

they must be forwarded to Washington so as to be there by December 3 for the opening of congress.

The petition sets forth that it is the belief of the petitioners that "it is the duty of this government to take such means as lie within its power to assure us that the bodies of those of our boys whose lives may be sacrificed on the altar of freedom shall be cared for by experienced and scientific embalmers in order that they may eventually be returned to their home burial grounds in a sanitary and recognizable condition, to be interred under the rites of their own church.

"We believe that the body of a private soldier is as sacred as the body of an officer and should be given the same reverent care and attention." A new method of embalming has been perfected so that the bodies of dead soldiers may be kept in a perfect state indefinitely, and all that is needed to prevent the burial of the men of the American expeditionary forces killed in battle on a foreign and is the passage of the bill by congress.

George Todd of this city, who is employed by Fred A. Caldwell, is now taking a course of embalming in Indianapolis and is learning the new method. If congress passes the bill to provide for the burial of dead soldiers at their late homes, Mr. Todd will go to France as an embalmer.

The bill pending before congress does not provide for an appropriation to pay the expenses of returning the bodies of dead soldiers. It merely, if passed, authorizes and directs the secretary of war to accept the offer of the American Purple Cross Society to perform this patriotic service, subject to such rules and regulations as the secretary of war may prescribe, with the provision that the expenses incident to the service be borne by the American Purple Cross Society.

The Purple Cross Society is a voluntary organization similar to the Red Cross. It offers its services as an auxiliary to the Quartermasters Corps and if authorized by congress, will raise, equip, train and maintain at its own expense such units of embalmers as may be necessary, and further has offered to provide automobile service for the necessary units to the end that the mission of the organization may be carried out.

Kendallville—Work on Kendallville's new post office will be started just as soon as teams and men can be secured, according to the engineer of the Steininger Construction company of St. Louis, who was awarded the contract by the government.

In Times Like These Reo Quality Counts

THERE'S A REASON why all Reo models—Motor Trucks as well as four and six cylinder automobiles—enjoy a demand at this time that is greatly in excess of the factory output.

OF COURSE YOU KNOW that never since the day the first Reo left Lansing and went into the hands of its proud owner has it been possible for us to make enough cars to supply all who wanted Reos.

BUT THAT WASN'T remarkable when you consider our policy of conservative expansion.

UNDER THAT POLICY quality has always been in advance of quantity.

WE REO FOLK have never been ambitious to make all the automobiles—only the best.

WE HAVE LOOKED TO quality first—and increased the output only as fast as we could without for an hour endangering the quality of the product.

WE HAVE EXPANDED during the years till Reo is now one of the largest—but we have never made any more Reos than we could make and make every Reo good.

YOU HAVE SEEN the result of the other kind of policy—that of reckless expansion.

SOME MAKERS SAW ONLY the demand—and they rushed to supply it regardless.

RESULT—A YEAR OR TWO of frenzied prosperity—then a slump from which few have recovered.

FROM THE VERY FIRST we Reo Folk have set our course and trimmed our sails for the long run—for stormy weather and seasons of calm.

AND THAT REO POLICY which has, from the first, justified itself, is today the envy of the industry.

FOR REO REPUTATION which is based, not on promises, but on performance; a reputation founded on quality—consistent quality—is now our greatest asset.

WORTH MORE TO US today than our millions of dollars worth of plant and materials.

REO DEMAND is the result of that Reo reputation—the knowledge, the certainty of the buyer that in selecting a Reo of whatever model, he thereby secures the one that is, in its class, "The Gold Standard of Values."

COME TO DECIDING HOUR, WILSON SAYS

President Addresses Annual Convention of American Federation of Labor Today.

IS ESCORTED BY WHITMAN

(By United Press.)

Convention Hall, Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Asking to be regarded as a fellow citizen, President Wilson opened his address before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor here today, saying, "We have come to the deciding hour between the old principle of power and new principle of freedom." President and Mrs. Wilson were escorted by Governor Whitman amid the waving of flags, and cheering, while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

The president digressed to review the German situation before the war and condemned Germany for "beginning the war." There was nothing in this world of peace she did not have already, he said. Turning to the military situation, President Wilson said: "If Germany keeps up a line from Berlin to Bagdad, she has won all she started out to do. The Berlin-Bagdad railway was built for military use, not for commerce."

"Any body of men that compounds with Germany, compounds for their own destruction," he added.

Kidney & Co.

(By Dr. V. M. Pierce)

The kidneys and the skin work in harmony. They're companions, the skin being the second partner. If we are anxious to keep well and preserve the vitality of the kidneys and, also, free the blood from noxious elements, we must pay special attention to a good action of the skin and to see that the kidneys are flushed so as to eliminate the poisons from the blood. The pores of the skin can be easily clogged, and frequent baths with soap and water help to remove the injurious products that clog the pores. Sweating, by hard work or in a bath, at least once a week, helps to keep the skin and kidneys in good condition. Flush the kidneys by drinking plenty of pure water with meals and between meals. Occasionally obtain at the nearest drug store Anuric, which will help flush the kidneys and the intestines. You will find that Anuric is many times more active than lithia and that it dissolves uric acid almost as hot water does sugar.

The Y. M. C. A. Campaign

While the Red Cross and all other agencies have their distinctive place in the American war work, there is nothing which can fill the place which the Y. M. C. A. fills. We are called on this week to show our appreciation of what this wonderful organization has done by supporting it further. We of Rush county have been asked to subscribe the sum of $7,500 this week. It is less than one-third of what we gave to the Red Cross war fund.

The battle cry has been sounded and the sword is drawn. It has come to be very much the sentiment in these days that those who are not for us are against us, and any man or woman who is able to give and does not in this campaign this week may well be assured of what the opinion of the community is. No large contributions are necessary. If all will do their share the fund will be raised in a very short time.

All who help this enterprise along may know that their money is well spent. For the purposes of administration, the task of providing entertainment for the men in the United States armed forces is divided in two parts, the work in the large National Guard and National Army camps and cantonments being handled separately from that in the smaller camps and posts. The thirty-three large camps (including one embarkation camp) receive what are called Red Triangle Programs. These are concert companies, stock companies, lecturers and readers of proven merit and long experience on the stage or in chautauqua and Lyceum work. These attractions play from three to six nights a week in each camp or cantonment. In the sixteen National Army Camps their "theatre" is the huge Y. M. C. A. auditorium which is a part of the Y. M. C. A. equipment in each of these cantonments and which seats three thousand men and can accommodate five hundred more. In the National Guard camps chautauqua tents of slightly smaller capacity are used for staging the entertainments.

In every instance only high-class features are used. This is not only advisable, but also necessary. Soldiers are a critical audience. The "ham" actor cannot "get by" with them. Hence no troupe goes out on a tour without a thorough previous try-out. They have to make good before an audience of enlisted men before they are hired. Moreover, reports from the secretary in charge of entertainments in each camp are made of every performance. These reports include a statement as to the reaction of the enlisted men and the evidence of merit or demerit that a troupe shows. Repeated adverse reports would, of course, result in a company's withdrawal.

And the work of the Y. M. C. A. in the United States will be but half of the story of its services to American enlisted forces. The whole vast program is to be duplicated overseas. There every phase of the work takes on added significance and importance. Especially is this true of the entertainment and amusement features, which are among the best antidotes for the

"WEEK BY WEEK" POLICY ADOPTED

Railroads Working With Public Service Commission—Rush Cars Back to Mines

1,500 CARS TO BE RECEIVED

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 12.—The "week by week" policy of supplying coal was adopted today by State Director Evans Woollen and his county aides. This plan supplants the "day by day" policy in effect heretofore.

Each county administrator will make requests for the amount of coal his consumers will require for the week. Previously he reported the amount required each day. It was expected that requests for at least 1,500 cars of coal would be received during the day, as this is the amount needed for the week.

To supply this amount, the railroads are working with the public service commission to tighten up their service in cars. Unloading time will be cut down and cars rushed back to the mines as soon as they are unloaded.

CIRCUS CAMEL MASCOT OF AMERICAN OFFICERS

(By United Press.)

General Headquarters, American Expeditionary Army, France, Oct. 28 (By Mail)—Emancipation has come to Mabel through the benevolence of a dozen American officers attached to General Headquarters.

Mable is a lady camel, the veteran of ten seasons of circus parades and two shows a day. Today her name is Camellage, the well-fed stately mascot of her owners.

A circus went broke in this town in the summer of 1914. When the animals went on the block at auction a local drayman saw possibilities in Mabel. Since then she has been hauling a dray through the streets and languishing for the odor of tan-bark.

One of the first things the American officers are planning on Mabel's behalf is a series of baths in some strong liquid. These will restore the fur to the naked patches on her exterior and kill off the things that bite.

When it came to choosing a name for the new mascot, there were those who wanted to call her Piffle. But that name was overruled because Mabel that was, or Camellage that is, knows nothing of American prohibition or politics.

monotony and dull care and dangers of soldier life.

The Indiana campaign now on to raise $1,000,000 to help in this work is only a part of the great country-wide plan to raise $35,000,000 to keep up the hearts of the men in far-away Europe, fighting the battles for the folks at home.

The Egg Speculators

Justice is reputed to be blind, but sometimes strikes so truly we are inclined to credit her with Argus eyes.

For some time now the government has been besieged to include eggs in the soldiers' rations, and it now comes to light that the parties so intensely interested in the boys are the cold storage men. Accustomed as they are to "retiring" large quantities of eggs during the laying season, this year they miscalculated the supply, and now they are caught with warehouses full and an almost normal supply still coming from the farms. Now they stand to lose heavily unless benevolent Uncle Sam can be persuaded to come to their relief.

Uncle should relieve them by peremptorily ordering their stock thrown on the general market, and let the people once more make the acquaintance of the fruit.

These are days when a fellow paws over every clothing stock in town and ends by going home and dragging his old winter suit from the closet to which he consigned it last spring.

The Kaiser of Germany and the Sultan of Turkey, working together, ought to cook up a very promising dish of "kultur" for the nations of the world.

Every time the German crown

Market quotations show a considerable drop in pork, but it hasn't had any effect on "ham and."

MEDICAL SUPPLIES SCARCE IN RUSSIA

That Country is Almost Dependent
Upon Her Allies For Material
Used in Hospitals

RED CROSS HEAD REPORTS

Recent Shipment Makes Total Sent
From the United States Amount
to $400,000

(By United Press.)

Washington, Nov. 8.—Russia is almost entirely dependant upon the allies for medical supplies for her hospitals and convalescent camps, according to a report of Dr. Frank Billings, recently appointed head of the American Red Cross Commission to Russia. In Dr. Billings' cable came the startling information that the hospitals at the Russian front are almost devoid of everything but vaccines.

In response to Dr. Billings' appeal the local Red Cross headquarters has dispatched a $40,000 shipment of field operation kits, collapsible operating tables, syringes, needles, adhesive tape, catgut, rubber goods, etc. In addition to these articles 964 kilograms of medicines was included.

The shipment brings the total value of supplies sent to Russia for the use of the American hospital contingents up to $400,000.

In addition to this latest Red Cross shipment, Dr. Billings hopes to import by courier from Japan and China, some vaccines and other necessities that are obtainable in those countries.

The way to cordial relations and close co-operation between the American Red Cross and the Russian Army and relief organization has already been paved by the Red Cross Commission there. The hearty welcome given to Dr. Billings and his fellow commissioners by officials and populace indicate that Russia is eager to grasp the hand of the great American war relief society.

PUSH APRIL PIGS FOR FALL MARKET

Dr. Northrup is Conducting a Campaign for Increased Pork Production

MUST BE PROPERLY CARED FOR

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Nov. 9.—"Push your fall pigs for the April market now!" This was the advice given Indiana hog breeders and feeders today by Dr. L. E. Northrup, state veterinarian who is conducting a campaign for increased pork production in the state.

"The April market is one of the best markets of the year," he said. "To make your fall pigs weigh 250 to 300 pounds on this market, feeders must begin now. If properly housed and cared for, their growth and fat may be produced as rapidly in winter as in summer."

Gary—Gary is to have another new postal station. This will make four stations, all within the city limits.

THAT BAD BACK

Do you have a dull, steady ache in the small of the back—sharp, stabbing twinges when stooping or lifting—distressing urinary disorders? For bad back and weakened kidneys Rushville residents recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Rushville statement.

Mrs. Joseph S. Endicott, 125 S. Harrison St., says: "Sometimes I overdid at my housework or took cold and it was at just at such that I had trouble with my back. My back would get so lame I was miserable and everything in the way of work wore me out. When stooping, sharp catches would seize me across the small of my back. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Pitman & Wilson's Drug Store never failed to cure me of these attacks.

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Endicott had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)

RUSH COUNTY BOYS TESTIFY TO WORTH OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Training Station and Reserves gather in the large Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. by hundreds, every night. There is the place to meet the rest of the boys, and, while waiting for them, to write a letter home on free stationery. There, too, one can get a room for the night, if he has all night liberty, and can rent a locker to keep a few clothes in. When he gets tired scrubbing himself in cold water, he can go to the Y when he gets shore leave and try the effect of a hot shower. I believe the Navy has hot water but here they use all of it for the soup.

At the Newport Y. M. C. A. there are two pianos, and from the large crowd that is always around in the evening, some sailor can be found, who knows how to play. Along last spring I enjoyed very much hearing boys from Texas to Maine, singing, "Back Home in Indiana." Evening programs are organized, too, when movies are shown and hymns, trench songs, and popular airs are sung.

When we left Newport and went into barracks, a Y. M. C. A. building was quickly built on the grounds. It served as a postoffice, canteen, reading and writing room, and general gathering place when off duty. When about five hundred of us were sent here to New London, a similar branch was installed at our quarters here. The men in charge have also brought college professors and big men in the business world here for lectures.

In a thousand and one other ways the Y. M. C. A. creeps into our daily life. You feel that it is ever present and you would be lost without it. It is the most worth while organization that I know of.

I hope the Rush County campaign is successful, and I feel that it will bring in more than the $7,500.

Helps in Quarantine

(From Lester Coons, Sgt., Battery A. 139th U. S. F. A. Camp Shelby, Miss.)

Probably the best way to write about the army Y. M. C. A. is to go there for atmosphere but alas, Battery A. is under quarantine and confined to the battery street so that is impossible. But even this quarantine brings out one of the Y's best points.

You see, Battery A. and Battery B. were isolated because several cases of measles were reported from these organizations. Now it is pretty tough to have to stay on a strip of street about half a block long for we don't know how long and even the fellows get tired of each other so the Y. M. to the rescue. A tent was put up right on the street and literally filled with magazines, stationery, pens and ink. You folks at home probably won't be able to realize what even a quiet place to write in means to use here. If you would know how easy it is to write a letter in a squad tent, go to some mass meeting, get right in the middle of it and put your paper on the back of a three years old Literary Digest. Then start to write and have somebody throw shoes and sticks at you ever so often. It is something like that, only worse.

The army Y. M. C. A. is practically school, church and club to the man in camp. It provides outdoor and indoor games, baseball, basketball and football. The men in charge conduct classes and each "Y" has a preacher who organizes a Bible class and promotes a strong religious program. It keeps the men out of trouble by employing their leisure time. Anything to break up monotony of camp life and the Y. M. is the only solution.

GRANT ALIEN ENEMY PERMIT

(By United Press.)

Boston, Mass., Nov. 12.—Another instance in which women have invaded the sacred domain of mere man has come to light here with the announcement that the young women are now acting deputy marshals in the office of United States Marshal Mitchell.

These young women, Miss Mary K. Buckely and Miss Grace E. O'Donnell, are said to be the first women marshals ever appointed in the country.

Both declare they "just love" their new work, which consists of granting alien enemy permits and the responsibility of the correspondence connected with that branch of the government's protective war measures.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young — to do this you must watch your liver and bowels — there's no need of having a sallow complexion — dark rings under your eyes — pimples — a bilious look in your face — dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Negligee Are Practically All Negligible this Year, it Seems

Diaphanous and Gauzy, Transparent, Thin and Sheer, Are Adjectives Which May be Applied to Them, And When You Have Donned One, There Is Absolutely No Illusion Left Regarding You.

By MARGARET MASON
(Written for United Press.)

The negligees

They wear these days
Are simply out of sight.
But you, my dear,

In one, I fear,
Can't hope to be—not quite.

New York, Nov. 12.—Diaphanous and gauzy, transparent, thin and sheer, are adjectives to be applied to negligees this year. Of filmy lace and chiffon, Georgette, illusion, too, when you've donned one there's no illusion left regarding you.

The opening night of "Chu Chin Chow" the wonderful display of Oriental costuming quite took my breath away. The latest styles of Bagdad were shown on models fair. I saw at once our negligees I'd tracked right to their lair. Revealing all, concealing naught, the beauties made parade, in gold and silver, bits of gauze and gorgeous hued brocade. Boleros, trouserettes, and floating scarfs of gauze, afforded naught of camouflage for any little flaws.

And all the time in smartest shops along the Avenue, are offered similar designs of negligees on view, as Oriental, temperamental, elemental, too, as any now parading in the "Chu Chin Chow" review.

"Documentary robes in time" so reads the cryptic phrase, placarded in a window that shows much that doth amaze. Of course its on the Avenue and quite a nifty shop, and the show within it's window makes most everybody stop, except a poor old blind man as he passes, even he, hesitates a bit to listen even though he cannot see. For the negligees exhibited are loud and blatant, too, in Oriental colorings of every hectic hue.

Of Georgette crepe they all are made, one thickness, if you please, in one piece sort of shift designs, on some up to the knees, are crude and coarse and crewel designs embroidered all by hand, while round the round neck and the sleeves repeats the crewel band.

A Georgette crepe of vivid green is done in yards of blue, red, yellow, heliotrope and black and almost every hue. Around the hem the belt and sleeves, all flowing, and the neck, and two medallions of the yarn adorn each breast, by heck!

A purple robe hangs flowing down sans belt or girdle any, adorning it are yarn designs, not just a few, but many.

A crepe of Gobelin blue is done in yarn all shades of yellow while one of rose when donned will have designs upon some fellow.

Why "Documentary" they're called I really cannot say, unless because oft in divorce proceedings on display, as Documentary evidence is found a negligee.

For wear beneath these negligees are combinations show in crepe of color and designs in yarn to match their own.

Less worldly, and more sweet sixteen a little model is, in pink or blue which most suits you. So very dainty 'tis. Of flesh Georgette the jacket waist all frilled in point d'esprit, shows underneath a satin band of ribbon rosily on which are rosebud garlands while the skirt full pleated fall. Its of a fashion always good whose beauty never palls. Another one of corn hued crepe has chiffon tunic blue. The Empire waist is flower girl. It's something very new.

Some chiffon velvet robes are here on flowing lines all banded in marabou or softer fur with tassels silken stranded adangle from their flowing sleeves and on the girdle ends. In deed this robe more cover-some more hope of comfort lends, in case a coarser winter we, like Europe, have to face, in which event deliver me from one of gauze and lace. The boudoir caps are 'bout the same, they really don't much vary. Some now are showing fur pom-poms that are most chic—oh very. While turbans of brocade and gold are very smart to wear with harem robes of gorgeous hue that trousers boast, a pair. And with the documentary robes we've mentioned here-to-fore of course they're yarn darned Georgette caps that you will just adore. But this I know and tell you so that whether cold or cooled if you bought a gauzy robe and for it paid much gold. Although you shiver like a leaf you'll really have to wear it. You'll feel more dressed to wear a smile so simply grin and bear it.

MILK DELIVERY IS COSTLY FACTOR

Many Firms Cover The Same District—Milk Dealers Should Co-operate.

MONOPOLIES NOT TOLERATED

Way to Get Cheap Milk is to Let Milkmen Arrange Routes and Cut Down Costs.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 12.—Distribution of milk is the largest factor entering into the cost of the product to the consumer, Dr. H. E. B. Barnard, food administrator for Indiana, stated today.

"Every public statement the larger milk dealers have made shows very clearly that the most costly part of the milk business except the actual production of milk on the farm is the distribution of milk along the milk route," he said. "It costs more to haul the milk from the distributing station and leave it at the back door than it does to collect it at the farm, bring it to the city and make it safe and wholesome.

"The consumer wants her milk left at her home in an individual package before breakfast, every day of the year. This service is costly. Its costs doubled by the competition of dealers for business and territory. A dozen firms cover the same districts. A dozen milk wagons pass down the same streets in every city. That is what makes delivery charges mount so high and what makes the members of the Commercial Economy Board of the National Council of Defense sit up nights working out plans for reducing it.

"If milk dealers could co-operate to reorganize delivery routes to prevent over-lapping, milk would be cheaper, prices more stable and service more satisfactory. Such co-operation has not seemed possible in the past. The public has felt that their only protection against high prices was competition. Monopolies have not been tolerated; combinations have been broken up. But today it is becoming evident that an economic practice that allows a dozen small businesses to exist, each one giving indifferent service, and barely making a living wage, where one business could serve the public far better and more cheaply, is really an economic waste.

"We want service—the best and cheapest we can get. And the way to get cheaper milk is to let the milkmen arrange their routes and cut down delivery costs and then by fair and reasonable regulation to protect the public against extortion.

"It may be that some day we shall wake to see our cities operating dairies and milk routes just as now they operate water systems. If private capital does not find a way to supply good milk at reasonable prices, the public will put its own money into the milk business. Our children must be fed."

CHINA FEELS SHE IS "DOUBLE CROSSED"

Government is Not Apprised of Arrangements and is Bewildered at the Correspondence.

REFUSE TO DISCUSS SITUATION

Washington, Nov. 12.—China feels the United States has "double-crossed" her in the formal understanding reached recently between Viscount Ishii and Secretary Lansing. She may even decide to ignore the plan for recognition of special rights to Japan.

China was surprised and bewildered when it learned the contents of the Ishii-Lansing correspondence. Neither through its representative nor directly through the Peking foreign office was the Chinese government apprised of the arrangement concerning future relations with China.

The Chinese embassy refused to discuss the situation today even when shown United States dispatches from Tokio. But men close to the Peking government talked. They asked just what binding power the pact has on America since the treaty was not ratified by the senate.

ADVERTISING MEN HOLD MEETING

Representatives of Two Hundred Clubs of America and Other Officials Attend

AIDING WAR WORK DISCUSSED

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 12.—Relation of advertising to the war, was discussed at a conference of leading advertising men of the United States and Canada here today. The meeting was held at the headquarters of the Associated Advertising Clubs of World.

Representatives of 200 advertising clubs of America, members of the national executive committee and other officials attended the meeting.

Steps to induce the government to make appropriations for advertising work in its campaigns, were discussed. In no Liberty Loan or other campaign conducted by the government has money been spent by federal authorities for newspaper advertising. It is becoming increasingly difficult, it was pointed out, for advertising men to induce local business men and other advertisers to support the campaigns.

Other means of aiding in war work were taken up at the meeting and results already obtained in the Red Cross and Liberty Loan advertising under the direction of the national advertising board, were discussed by speakers.

Amusements

Antonio Moreno will be shown at the Gem this evening in his latest screen production, "The Angel Factory." It is the story of a rich man who believes that his wealth means an obligation to those less fortunate than he. He takes up settlement work and comes in contact with a girl of the poor. There is a strong love interest throughout the play and it is beautifully staged. Tomorrow, "The Neglected Wife," and "Lonesome Luke's Wild Women," are the features for the matinee and evening.

"The Whip," is being shown at the Princess theatre this evening and will be shown tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The picture par excellence, the supreme offering of filmdom is, "The Whip," the screen version of the famous play that ran for three years in London and for over two seasons in New York City when it was produced by William A. Brady.

Afterward the play had a run of two years in Australia and a career without precedent in every part of the English speaking world. It was translated into French, Russian, German and other tongues, and always with enormous success.

Vastness has been immeasurably increased by the resources of motion picture art. Given such advantages or original magnitude "The Whip," offered a rarely inviting subject for picturization at the hands of Maurice Tourneur. Tremendous effects have been secured, as, for instance, the gigantic train wreck in which a whole train was smashed to bits at a huge cost for the sole purpose of securing one scene for this picture.

The story is of the race track and the intrigue revolving around a famous race horse named "The Whip." This intrigue involves an impetuous "gentleman" and his adventuress partner, a handsome young man in love with the charming daughter of the horse-loving Judge who owns "The Whip," the jockey who rides and idolizes the horse, and the unsophisticated and pretty sister of the jockey.

Miss Dorothy Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thomas of this city, and Lieutenant Glenn I. Tucker, formerly of Greencastle, were quietly married in the First Methodist church at San Antonio, Texas, on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Lieutenant and his bride are now on a short honeymoon during the former's furlough and will return to their apartment in San Antonio at 1402 River Ave. to make their home.

The wedding results from a friendship started in Depauw university where Mr. and Mrs. Tucker were students. Mrs. Tucker is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, in this city was a Psi Iota Xi, and for the past year has been engaged in advertising work in Indianapolis, where she met with unusual success in the business world.

Lieutenant Tucker, who is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities, was in newspaper work, having had positions in the New York World and Indianapolis Star. He was commissioned at Fort Benjamin Harrison and recently assigned to Fort Houston, near San Antonio.

Miss Pauline Gosnell entertained with a well appointed dinner party last evening at her home in West Second street, honoring her week-end house guest, Miss Lucile Jackson of Shelbyville. Red candles marked the places for Miss Jackson, Miss Gosnell, Robert Vredenburg and Ray Bird of Shelbyville.

BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back-achy or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Claud Neff and Mrs. Roy Neff, all of Eaton, O., motored here Sunday and were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Houston and family.

Lieutenant Ivan Coyne of Camp Taylor was the guest of honor at the dinner given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Coyne at their home in North Sexton street yesterday at noon. The guests enjoying the sumptuous dinner were Mrs. Will Welsh and sons, Robert and Edward and Miss Margaret Kerr of Connersville, Mrs. John Buheit of Indianapolis and Miss Marie Talbert of Morristown.

Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. Will Dill, Mrs. Sarah Guffin and Mrs. Edwin Payne have returned from Indianapolis where they attended the state D. A. R. meeting at the Claypool hotel.

The Ladies of St. Paul's M. E. church will sew at the Red Cross headquarters tomorrow afternoon.

school at Arlington yesterday morning and at the regular church service at the Arlington Christian church.

The committees in charge of the canvassing are starting unanimously today to cover Rush county and give everyone an opportunity to contribute to the fund. The township chairmen are managing their campaign according to their own plans but practically all are conducting a house to house canvass. Chairman T. M. Green, in charge of the work, says that many farmers have left their corn fields to work for the worthy cause. The sub-committees in charge of the districts of Rushville have met or are meeting today before starting the canvass. B. L. Trabue is at the head of the campaign in this city.

The chairmen have been asked to report to Mr. Green, two or three times during the week, giving him an idea as to how many persons have contributed and what the total subscription is up to that time. The entire county has been organized in a thorough manner.

Secretary Lower placed Theodore Roosevelt in his own Ananias club by calling him a liar. Mr. Lower took exception to a speech by the former president in which he said only men over 41 years of age should be in the Association service because it was a bullet-proof job and a haven for slackers. In refutation of this charge, he said 90 per cent of the Association men were killed in the battle of the Somme. He also declared that he apologized to no man for the work he was in because the

Relief Shipment of Coal For Milroy, Sexton and Carthage Requested by Fuel Head

WILL ATTEND CONFERENCE

Samuel L. Trabue, county fuel administrator, has ordered in four more cars of coal for Rush county through the federal fuel administration for Indiana. The four cars will be consigned as follows: one car each to Sexton and Milroy and two to Carthage. The Rushville dealers informed the county administrator that they thought they had enough coal in transit to meet the immediate needs of their trade.

The first relief shipment of four cars ordered by the county fuel administrator has not arrived, but is expected some time this week. It requires about ten days to get a shipment through. One of them goes to Carthage, one to Falmouth and two to this city.

County Administrator Trabue will attend a conference of county administrators at the federal building in Indianapolis tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock when questions which have arisen since the fuel administration has been at work.

Y. M. secretaries were respected and had access to all branches of the service.

Secretary Lower says the Association tries to take the place of home in the soldier's life. He declared the boys longed for a touch of home life and gave several illustrations.

The speaker asserted that if the men of the army were to vote for the organization they preferred—the Red Cross or the Red Triangle—he would venture to say they would favor the latter. While the Red Cross administers to the body and is indispensable, he pointed out that the Association administers to the body, by providing men with refreshments; to the mind to keep men with nothing to do back of the lines from going mad and to the spirit by leading them to a better life. Mr. Lower said the Association was the one uplifting influence in army life that was devoted to the men's spiritual well being and on how well it is supported depends whether the boys come back clean or a drag on society.

Secretary Lower pointed to the wonderful opportunity which was now open to the church, which heretofore had been refused entrance into Italy and Russia. Now, he said, the Y. M. C. A., the representative of the church on the front, is being begged to send men and equipment to both places.

The speaker asserted the Austro-German drive into Italy might have been averted if the Association had been in Italy to keep up the morale of the troops.

He recalled that the first shell fired by an American battery in Europe was sent across No-man's land by a Hoosier and that Indiana was among the first to raise its allotment in the other campaign. For this reason, he said he was proud of his adopted state and felt sure she would live up to her reputation this time.

Three hundred dollars for an Easter offering, 20 per cent increase in membership and an attendance of 80 per cent of the enrollment at some service between now and Easter Sunday were the goals set by the Methodist Sunday school to reach by Easter at the rally day service held yesterday morning. An interesting program was carried out. A talk was made by the pastor, C. S. Black on the goals, and Judge Will M. Sparks made a talk on "Our Debt to the Reformation."

ernment.

An authoritative dispatch dated at Moscow yesterday at 4 p. m. and received today declared there was considerable street firing in progress there and that the provisional troop were doing well.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Nov. 12.—Fresh evidences that the Bolsheviks' revol in Russia is collapsing reached the state department today. Official messages relayed through Persia said Kerensky had reached army headquarters and said that the uprising apparently would be short-lived.

The message did not state, however, as to Kerensky's progress as to leading the army against Petrograd.

The Russian embassy still pinned its faith on Kerensky, Korniloff, Kalendines, the three strong men of Russia. Korniloff, only recently in disgrace and with his life in Kerensky's hands, today loomed up as the possible savior of his country. Entente and Russian officials admit that they are counting on the Korniloff to restore discipline in the army. On Kerensky they placed the burden of untangling the political fabric out of which is to emerge a stable government. While the embassy was without official information regarding the rapid turn of events, a decidedly optimistic feeling prevailed today.

All along officials have declared positively that the Bolsheviks could not endure.

The Maximalists menace will be permanently disposed of by Kerensky was predicted by Russian embassy officials.

From the fact that the state department's message took a round about course, it was apparent that communication out of Petrograd was still closed when it was sent.

Laport—Greater activity in manufacturing in the plants of the Advance-Rumley company was predicted by an official of the company. He stated that the working force will be greatly increased as soon as arrangements can be made.

CHEMICALS USED TO SAVE GASOLINE

Cleveland Chemist Sends Sample to Rockefeller for Use in His Own Car

SUCCESSFUL IN AIRPLANES

(By United Press.)

Cleveland, Nov. 12.—When H. W. Orndorf, Cleveland chemist, concocted a chemical which he says will make flivvering cheaper by prolonging the life of gasoline as well as that of the flivverist's pocket-book, he sent the first sample to John D. Rockefeller with the suggestion that John D. use it in his car and save on his gasoline bills.

Orndorf has not heard from John D., but he says the chemical is being used successfully in French airplane engines on the Western front.

WOULD BURY DEAD SOLDIERS AT HOME

they must be forwarded to Washington so as to be there by December 3 for the opening of congress.

The petition sets forth that it is the belief of the petitioners that "it is the duty of this government to take such means as lie within its power to assure us that the bodies of those of our boys whose lives may be sacrificed on the altar of freedom shall be cared for by experienced and scientific embalmers in order that they may eventually be returned to their home burial grounds in a sanitary and recognizable condition, to be interred under the rites of their own church.

"We believe that the body of a private soldier is as sacred as the body of an officer and should be given the same reverent care and attention."

A new method of embalming has been perfected so that the bodies of lead soldiers may be kept in a perfect state indefinitely, and all that is needed to prevent the burial of the men of the American expeditionary forces killed in battle on a foreign land is the passage of the bill by congress.

George Todd of this city, who is employed by Fred A. Caldwell, is now taking a course of embalming in Indianapolis and is learning the new method. If congress passes the bill to provide for the burial of dead soldiers at their late homes, Mr. Todd will go to France as an embalmer.

The bill pending before congress does not provide for an appropriation to pay the expenses of returning the bodies of dead soldiers. It merely, if passed, authorizes and directs the secretary of war to accept the offer of the American Purple Cross Society to perform this patriotic service, subject to such rules and regulations as the secretary of war may prescribe, with the provision that the expenses incident to the service be borne by the American Purple Cross Society.

The Purple Cross Society is a voluntary organization similar to the Red Cross. It offers its services as an auxiliary to the Quartermasters Corps and if authorized by congress, will raise, equip, train and maintain at its own expense such units of embalmers as may be necessary, and further has offered to provide automobile service for the necessary units to the end that the mission of the organization may be carried out.

Kendallville—Work on Kendallville's new post office will be started as soon as teams and men can be secured, according to the engineer of the Steinger Construction company of St. Louis, who was awarded the contract by the government.

In Times Like These Reo Quality Counts

THERE'S A REASON why all Reo models—Motor Trucks as well as four and six cylinder automobiles—enjoy a demand at this time that is greatly in excess of the factory output.

OF COURSE YOU KNOW that never since the day the first Reo left Lansing and went into the hands of its proud owner has it been possible for us to make enough cars to supply all who wanted Reos.

BUT THAT WASN'T remarkable when you consider our policy of conservative expansion. UNDER THAT POLICY quality has always been in advance of quantity.

WE REO FOLK have never been ambitious to make all the automobiles—only the best.

WE HAVE LOOKED TO quality first—and increased the output only as fast as we could without for an hour endangering the quality of the product.

WE HAVE EXPANDED during the years till Reo is now one of the largest—but we have never made any more Reos than we could make and make every Reo good.

YOU HAVE SEEN the result of the other kind of policy—that of reckless expansion.

SOME MAKERS SAW ONLY the demand—and they rushed to supply it regardless.

RESULT—A YEAR OR TWO of frenzied prosperity—then a slump from which few have recovered.

FROM THE VERY FIRST we Reo Folk have set our course and trimmed our sails for the long run—for stormy weather and seasons of calm.

AND THAT REO POLICY which has, from the first, justified itself, is today the envy of the industry.

FOR REO REPUTATION which is based, not on promises, but on performance; a reputation founded on quality—consistent quality—is now our greatest asset.

WORTH MORE TO US today than our millions of dollars worth of plant and materials.

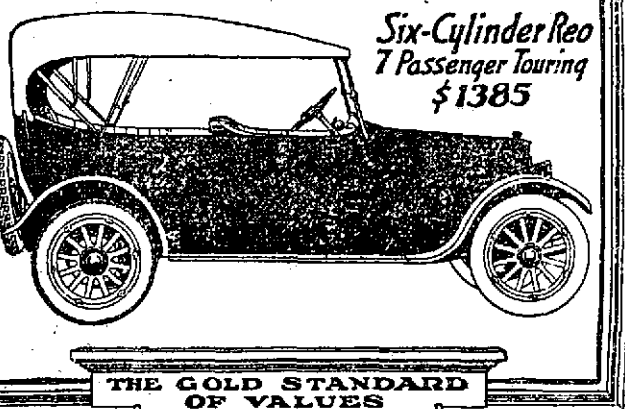

REO DEMAND is the result of that Reo reputation—the knowledge, the certainty of the buyer that in selecting a Reo of whatever model, he thereby secures the one that is, in its class, "The Gold Standard of Values."

COME TO DECIDING HOUR, WILSON SAYS

President Addresses Annual Convention of American Federation of Labor Today.

IS ESCORTED BY WHITMAN

(By United Press.)

Convention Hall, Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Asking to be regarded as a fellow citizen, President Wilson opened his address before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor here today, saying, "We have come to the deciding hour between the old principle of power and new principle of freedom."

President and Mrs. Wilson were escorted by Governor Whitman amid the waving of flags, and cheering, while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner"

The president digressed to review the German situation before the war and condemned Germany for "beginning the war." There was nothing in this world of peace she did not have already, he said. Turning to the military situation, President Wilson said: "If Germany keeps up a line from Berlin to Bagdad, she has won all she started out to do. The Berlin-Bagdad railway was built for military use, not for commerce."

"Any body of men that compounds with Germany, compounds for their own destruction," he added.

Kidney & Co.

(By Dr. V. M. Pierce)

The kidneys and the skin work in harmony. They're companions, the skin being the second partner. If we are anxious to keep well and preserve the vitality of the kidneys and, also, free the blood from noxious elements, we must pay special attention to a good action of the skin, and to see that the kidneys are flushed so as to eliminate the poisons from the blood. The pores of the skin can be easily clogged, and frequent baths with soap and water help to remove the injurious products that clog the pores. Sweating, by hard work or in a bath, at least once a week, helps to keep the skin and kidneys in good condition. Flush the kidneys by drinking plenty of pure water with meals and at the nearest drug store Anuric, which will help flush the kidneys and the intestines. You will find that Anuric is many times more active than lithia and that it dissolves uric acid almost as hot water does sugar.

The Y. M. C. A. Campaign

While the Red Cross and all other agencies have their distinctive place in the American war work, there is nothing which can fill the place which the Y. M. C. A. fills. We are called on this week to show our appreciation of what this wonderful organization has done by supporting it further. We of Rush county have been asked to subscribe the sum of $7,500 this week. It is less than one-third of what we gave to the Red Cross war fund.

The battle cry has been sounded and the sword is drawn. It has come to be very much the sentiment in these days that those who are not for us are against us, and any man or woman who is able to give and does not in this campaign this week may well be assured of what the opinion of the community is. No large contributions are necessary. If all will do their share the fund will be raised in a very short time.

All who help this enterprise along may know that their money is well spent. For the purposes of administration, the task of providing entertainment for the men in the United States armed forces is divided in two parts, the work in the large National Guard and National Army camps and cantonments being handled separately from that in the smaller camps and posts. The thirty-three large camps (including one embarkation camp) receive what are called Red Triangle Programs. These are concert companies, stock companies, lecturers and readers of proven merit and long experience on the stage or in chautauqua and Lyceum work. These attractions play from three to six nights a week in each camp or cantonment. In the sixteen National Army Camps their "theatre" is the huge Y. M. C. A. auditorium which is a part of the Y. M. C. A. equipment in each of these cantonments and which seats three thousand men and can accommodate five hundred more. In the National Guard camps chautauqua tents of slightly smaller capacity are used for staging the entertainments.

In every instance only high-class features are used. This is not only advisable, but also necessary. Soldiers are a critical audience. The "ham" actor cannot "get by" with them. Hence no troupe goes out on a tour without a thorough previous try-out. They have to make good before an audience of enlisted men before they are hired. Moreover, reports from the secretary in charge of entertainments in each camp are made of every performance. These reports include a statement as to the reaction of the enlisted men and the evidence of merit or demerit that a troupe shows. Repeated adverse reports would, of course, result in a company's withdrawal.

And the work of the Y. M. C. A. in the United States will be but half of the story of its services to American enlisted forces. The whole vast program is to be duplicated overseas. There every phase of the work takes on added significance and importance. Especially is this true of the entertainment and amusement features, which are among the best antidotes for the

"WEEK BY WEEK"

POLICY ADOPTED

Railroads Working With Public Service Commission—Rush Cars Back to Mines

1,500 CARS TO BE RECEIVED

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 12.—The "week by week" policy of supplying coal was adopted today by State Director Evans Woolen and his county aides. This plan supplants the "day by day" policy in effect heretofore.

Each county administrator will make requests for the amount of coal his consumers will require for the week. Previously he reported the amount required each day. It was expected that requests for at least 1,500 cars of coal would be received during the day, as this is the amount needed for the week.

To supply this amount, the railroads are working with the public service commission to tighten up their service in cars. Unloading time will be cut down and cars rushed back to the mines as soon as they are unloaded.

CIRCUS CAMEL MASCOT OF AMERICAN OFFICERS

(By United Press.)

General Headquarters, American Expeditionary Force, France, Oct. 28 (By Mail)—Emancipation has come to Mabel through the benevolence of a dozen American officers attached to General Headquarters.

Mabel is a lady camel, the veteran of ten seasons of circus parades and two shows a day. Today her name is Camellage, the well-fed stately mascot of her owners.

A circus went broke in this town in the summer of 1914. When the animals went on the block at auction a local drayman saw possibilities in Mabel. Since then she has been hauling a dray through the streets and languishing for the odor of tan-bark.

One of the first things the American officers are planning on Mabel's behalf is a series of baths in some strong liquid. These will restore the fur to the naked patches on her exterior and kill off the things that bite.

When it came to choosing a name for the new mascot, there were those who wanted to call her Piffle. But that name was overruled because Mabel that was, or Camellage that is, knows nothing of American prohibition or politics.

monotony and dull care and dangers of soldier life.

The Indiana campaign now on to raise $1,000,000 to help in this work is only a part of the great country-wide plan to raise $35,000,000 to keep up the hearts of the men in far-away Europe, fighting the battles for the folks at home.

The Egg Speculators

Justice is reputed to be blind, but sometimes strikes so truly we are inclined to credit her with Argus eyes.

For some time now the government has been besieged to include eggs in the soldiers' rations, and it now comes to light that the parties so intensely interested in the boys are the cold storage men. Accustomed as they are to "retiring" large quantities of eggs during the laying season, this year they miscalculated the supply, and now they are caught with warehouses full and an almost normal supply still coming from the farms. Now they stand to lose heavily unless benevolent Uncle Sam can be persuaded to come to their relief.

Uncle should relieve them by peremptorily ordering their stock thrown on the general market, and let the people once more make the acquaintance of the fruit.

These are days when a fellow paws over every clothing store in town and ends by going home and dragging his old winter suit from the closet to which he consigned it last spring.

The Kaiser of Germany and the Sultan of Turkey, working together, ought to cook up a very promising dish of "kultur" for the nations of the world.

Every time the German crown

Market quotations show a considerable drop in pork, but it hasn't had any effect on "ham and."

New York, Nov. 12.—The National Horse Show, the first and only sporting event to give its gross and entire receipts to the War Relief Fund, opened at Madison Square Garden today, with upwards of 2,000 entries for the 165 classes.

The military events are attracting special attention, many foreign and American officers competing.

The entry list shows notable increases in all riding and driving classes, but especially hunters and the pick of jumpers from this country and Canada.

A committee of sixty women workers of the Red Cross have been co-operating for the past two months in arranging for the affair and it is expected close to $50,000 will be turned over to the Red Cross.

MEDICAL SUPPLIES SCARCE IN RUSSIA

That Country is Almost Dependent
Upon Her Allies For Material
Used in Hospitals

RED CROSS HEAD REPORTS

Recent Shipment Makes Total Sent
From the United States Amount
to $400,000

(By United Press.)
Washington, Nov. 8.—Russia is almost entirely dependant upon the allies for medical supplies for her hospitals and convalescent camps, according to a report of Dr. Frank Billings, recently appointed head of the American Red Cross Commission to Russia. In Dr. Billings' cable came the startling information that the hospitals at the Russian front are almost devoid of everything but vaccines.

In response to Dr. Billings' appeal the local Red Cross headquarters has dispatched a $40,000 shipment of field operation kits, collapsible operating tables, syringes, needles, adhesive tape, catgut, rubber goods, etc. In addition to these articles 964 kilograms of medicines was included.

The shipment brings the total value of supplies sent to Russia for the use of the American hospital contingents up to $400,000.

In addition to this latest Red Cross shipment, Dr. Billings hopes to import by courier from Japan and China, some vaccines and other necessities that are obtainable in those countries.

The way to cordial relations and close co-operation between the American Red Cross and the Russian Army and relief organization has already been paved by the Red Cross Commission there. The hearty welcome given to Dr. Billings and his fellow commissioners by officials and populace indicate that Russia is eager to grasp the hand of the great American war relief society.

PUSH APRIL PIGS FOR FALL MARKET

Dr. Northrup is Conducting a Campaign for Increased Pork Production

MUST BE PROPERLY CARED FOR

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Nov. 9.—"Push your fall pigs for the April market now!" This was the advice given Indiana hog breeders and feeders today by Dr. L. E. Northrup, state veterinarian who is conducting a campaign for increased pork production in the state.

"The April market is one of the best markets of the year," he said. "To make your fall pigs weigh 250 to 300 pounds on this market, feeders must begin now. If properly housed and cared for, their growth and fat may be produced as rapidly in winter as in summer."

Gary—Gary is to have another new postal station. This will make four stations, all within the city limits.

THAT BAD BACK

Do you have a dull, steady ache in the small of the back—sharp, stabbing twinges when stooping or lifting—distressing urinary disorders? For bad back and weakened kidneys Rushville residents recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Rushville statement.

Mrs. Joseph S. Endicott, 125 S. Harrison St., says: "Sometimes I overdid at my housework or took cold and it was at just at such that I had trouble with my back. My back would get so lame I was miserable and everything in the way of work wore me out. When stooping, sharp catches would seize me across the small of my back. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Pitman & Wilson's Drug Store never failed to cure me of these attacks.

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Endicott had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)

RUSH COUNTY BOYS TESTIFY TO WORTH OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Training Station and Reserves gather in the large Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. by hundreds, every night. There is the place to meet the rest of the boys, and, while waiting for them, to write a letter home on free stationery. There, too, one can get a room for the night, if he has all night liberty, and can rent a locker to keep a few clothes in. When he gets tired scrubbing himself in cold water, he can go to the Y when he gets shore leave and try the effect of a hot shower. I believe the Navy has hot water but here they use all of it for the soup.

At the Newport Y. M. C. A. there are two pianos, and from the large crowd that is always around in the evening, some sailor can be found, who knows how to play. Along last spring I enjoyed very much hearing boys from Texas to Maine, singing, "Back Home in Indiana." Evening programs are organized, too, when movies are shown and hymns, trench songs, and popular airs are sung.

When we left Newport and went into barracks, a Y. M. C. A. building was quickly built on the grounds. It served as a postoffice, canteen, reading and writing room, and general gathering place when off duty. When about five hundred of us were sent here to New London, a similar branch was installed at our quarters here. The men in charge have also brought college professors and big men in the business world here for lectures.

In a thousand and one other ways the Y. M. C. A. creeps into our daily life. You feel that it is ever present and you would be lost without it. It is the most worth while organization that I know of.

I hope the Rush County campaign is successful, and I feel that it will bring in more than the $7,500.

Helps in Quarantine

(From Lester Coons, Sgt., Battery A. 139th U. S. F. A. Camp Shelby, Miss.)

Probably the best way to write about the army Y. M. C. A. is to go there for atmosphere but alas, Battery A. is under quarantine and confined to the battery street so that is impossible. But even this quarantine brings out one of the Y's best points.

You see, Battery A. and Battery B. were isolated because several cases of measles were reported from these organizations. Now it is pretty tough to have to stay on a strip of street about half a block long for we don't know how long and even the fellows get tired of each other so the Y. M. to the rescue. A tent was put up right on the street and literally filled with magazines, stationery, pens and ink. You folks at home probably won't be able to realize what even a quiet place to write in means to use here. If you would know how easy it is to write a letter in a squad tent, go to some mass meeting, get right in the middle of it and put your paper on the back of a three years old Literary Digest. Then start to write and have somebody throw shoes and sticks at you ever so often. It is something like that, only worse.

The army Y. M. C. A. is practically school, church and club to the man in camp. It provides outdoor and indoor games, baseball, basketball and football. The men in charge conduct classes and each "Y" has a preacher who organizes a Bible class and promotes a strong religious program. It keeps the men out of trouble by employing their leisure time. Anything to break up monotony of camp life and the Y. M. is the only solution.

GRANT ALIEN ENEMY PERMIT

(By United Press.)

Boston, Mass., Nov. 12.—Another instance in which women have invaded the sacred domain of mere man has come to light here with the announcement that the young women are now acting deputy marshals in the office of United States Marshal Mitchell.

These young women, Miss Mary K. Buckely and Miss Grace E. O'Donnell, are said to be the first women marshals ever appointed in the country.

Both declare they "just love" their new work, which consists of granting alien enemy permits and the responsibility connected with that branch of the government's protective war measures.

Days Pickings

A penny supper will be given at the St. Paul's M. E. church on Friday evening of this week.

Senator James E. Watson, who spent Sunday and today here, will probably be detained in Indiana this week by the Clark-Stanley will case, which is set for trial in the Madison circuit court at Anderson, having been sent there on a change of venue. Senator Watson is an attorney for the defense. The case has been pending for some time, having first been sent to Henry county from here and then to Madison county. Senator Watson went to Indianapolis this afternoon.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Negligee Are Practically All Negligible this Year, it Seems

Diaphanous and Gauzy, Transparent, Thin and Sheer, Are Adjectives Which May be Applied to Them, And When You Have Donned One, There Is Absolutely No Illusion Left Regarding You.

By MARGARET MASON
(Written for United Press.)

The negligees They wear these days Are simply out of sight. But you, my dear, In one, I fear, Can't hope to be—not quite.

New York, Nov. 12.—Diaphanous and gauzy, transparent, thin and sheer, are adjectives to be applied to negligees this year. Of filmy lace and chiffon, Georgette, illusion, too, when you've donned one there's no illusion left regarding you.

The opening night of "Chu Chin Chow" the wonderful display of Oriental costuming quite took my breath away. The latest styles of Bagdad were shown on models fair. I saw at once our negligees I'd tracked right to their lair. Revealing all, concealing naught, the beauties made parade, in gold and silver, bits of gauze and gorgeous hued brocade. Boleros, trouserettes, and floating scarfs of gauze, afforded naught of camouflage for any little flaws.

And all the time in smartest shops along the Avenue, are offered similar designs of negligees on view, as Oriental, temperamental, elemental, too, as any now parading in the "Chu Chin Chow" review.

"Documentary robes in time" so reads the cryptic phrase, placarded in a window that shows much that doth amaze. Of course its on the Avenue and quite a nifty shop, and the show within it's window makes most everybody stop, except a poor old blind man as he passes, even he, hesitates a bit to listen even though he cannot see. For the negligees exhibited are loud and blatant, too, in Oriental colorings of every hectic hue.

Of Georgette crepe they all are made, one thickness, if you please, in one piece sort of shift designs, on some up to the knees, are crude and coarse and crevel designs embroidered all by hand, while round the round neck and the sleeves repeats the crevel band.

A Georgette crepe of vivid green is done in yards of blue, red, yellow, heliotrope and black and almost every hue. Around the hem the belt and sleeves, all flowing, and the neck, and two medallions of the yarn adorn each breast, by heck!

A purple robe hangs flowing down sans belt or girdle any, adorning it are yarn designs, not just a few, but many.

A crepe of Gobelin blue is done in yarn all shades of yellow while one of rose when donned will haze designs upon some fellow.

Why "Documentary" they're called I really cannot say, unless because oft in divorce proceedings on display, as Documentary evidence is found a negligee.

For wear beneath these negligees are combinations show in crepe of color and designs in yarn to match their own.

Less worldly, and more sweet sixteen a little model is, in pink or blue which most suits you. So very dainty 'tis. Of flesh Georgette the jacket waist all frilled in point d'esprit, shows underneath a satin band of ribbon rosily on which are rosebud garlands while the skirt full pleated fall. Its of a fashion always good whose beauty never palls. Another one of corn hued crepe has chiffon tunic blue. The Empire waist is flower girl. It's something very new.

Some chiffon velvet robes are here on flowing lines all banded in marabou or softest fur with tassels silken stranded adangle from their flowing sleeves and on the girdle ends. In deed this robe more cover-some more hope of comfort lends, in case a coalless winter we, like Europe, have to face, in which event deliver me from one of gauze and lace.

The boudoir caps are 'bout the same, they really don't much vary. Some now are showing fur pom-poms that are most chic—oh very. While turbans of brocade and gold are very smart to wear with harem robes of gorgeous hue that trousers boast, a pair. And with the documentary robes we've mentioned here-to-fore of course they're yarn darned Georgette caps that you will just adore.

But this I know and tell you so that whether cold or cooled if you bought a gauzy robe and for it paid much gold. Although you shiver like a leaf you'll really have to wear it. You'll feel more dressed to wear a smile so simply grim and bear it.

MILK DELIVERY IS COSTLY FACTOR

Many Firms Cover The Same District—Milk Dealers Should Co-operate.

MONOPOLIES NOT TOLERATED

Way to Get Cheap Milk is to Let Milkmen Arrange Routes and Cut Down Costs.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 12.—Distribution of milk is the largest factor entering into the cost of the product to the consumer, Dr. H. E. B. Barnard, food administrator for Indiana, stated today.

"Every public statement the larger milk dealers have made shows very clearly that the most costly part of the milk business except the actual production of milk on the farm is the distribution of milk along the milk route," he said. "It costs more to haul the milk from the distributing station and leave it at the back door than it does to collect it at the farm, bring it to the city and make it safe and wholesome.

"The consumer wants her milk left at her home in an individual package before breakfast, every day of the year. This service is costly. Its costs doubled by the competition of dealers for business and territory. A dozen firms cover the same districts. A dozen milk wagons pass down the same streets in every city. That is what makes delivery charges mount so high and what makes the members of the Commercial Economy Board of the National Council of Defense sit up nights working out plans for reducing it.

"If milk dealers could co-operate to reorganize delivery routes to prevent over-lapping, milk would be cheaper, prices more stable and service more satisfactory. Such co-operation has not seemed possible in the past. The public has felt that their only protection against high prices was competition. Monopolies have not been tolerated; combinations have been broken up. But today it is becoming evident that an economic practice that allows a dozen small businesses to exist, each one giving indifferent service, and barely making a living wage, where one business could serve the public far better and more cheaply, is really an economic waste.

"We want service—the best and cheapest we can get. And the way to get cheaper milk is to let the milkmen arrange their routes and cut down delivery costs; and then by fair and reasonable regulation to protect the public against extortion.

"It may be that some day we shall wake to see our cities operating dairies and milk routes just as now they operate water systems. If private capital does not find a way to supply good milk at reasonable prices, the public will put its own money into the milk business. Our children must be fed."

CHINA FEELS SHE IS "DOUBLE CROSSED"

Government is Not Apprised of Arrangements and is Bewildered at the Correspondence.

REFUSE TO DISCUSS SITUATION

Washington, Nov. 12.—China feels the United States has "double-crossed" her in the formal understanding reached recently between Viscount Ishii and Secretary Lansing. She may even decide to ignore the plan for recognition of special rights to Japan.

China was surprised and bewildered when it learned the contents of the Ishii-Lansing correspondence. Neither through its representative nor directly through the Peking foreign office was the Chinese government apprised of the arrangement concerning future relations with China.

The Chinese embassy refused to discuss the situation today even when shown United States dispatches from Tokio. But men close to the Peking government talked. They asked just what binding power the pact has on America since the treaty was not ratified by the senate.

ADVERTISING MEN HOLD MEETING

Representatives of Two Hundred Clubs of America and Other Officials Attend

AIDING WAR WORK DISCUSSED

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 12.—Relation of advertising to the war, was discussed at a conference of leading advertising men of the United States and Canada here today. The meeting was held at the headquarters of the Associated Advertising Clubs of World.

Representatives of 200 advertising clubs of America, members of the national executive committee and other officials attended the meeting.

Steps to induce the government to make appropriations for advertising work in its campaigns, were discussed. In no Liberty Loan or other campaign conducted by the government has money been spent by federal authorities for newspaper advertising. It is becoming increasingly difficult, it was pointed out, for advertising men to induce local business men and other advertisers to support the campaigns.

Other means of aiding in war work were taken up at the meeting and results already obtained in the Red Cross and Liberty Loan advertising under the direction of the national advertising board, were discussed by speakers.

Amusements

Antonio Moreno will be shown at the Gem this evening in his latest screen production, "The Angel Factory." It is the story of a rich man who believes that his wealth means an obligation to those less fortunate than he. He takes up settlement work and comes in contact with a girl of the poor. There is a strong love interest throughout the play and it is beautifully staged. Tomorrow, "The Neglected Wife," and "Lonesome Luke's Wild Women," are the features for the matinee and evening.

"The Whip," is being shown at the Princess theatre this evening and will be shown tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The picture par excellence, the supreme offering of filmdom is, "The Whip," the screen version of the famous play that ran for three years in London and for over two seasons in New York City when it was produced by William A. Brady.

Afterward the play had a run of two years in Australia and a career without precedent in every part of the English speaking world. It was translated into French, Russian, German and other tongues, and always with enormous success.

Vastness has been immeasurably increased by the resources of motion picture art. Given such advantages or original magnitude "The Whip," offered a rarely inviting subject for pictorialization at the hands of Maurice Tourneur. Tremendous effects have been secured, as, for instance, the gigantic train wreck in which a whole train was smashed to bits at a huge cost for the sole purpose of securing one scene for this picture.

The story is of the race track and the intrigue revolving around a famous race horse named "The Whip." This intrigue involves an impecunious "gentleman" and his adventurous partner, a handsome young man in love with the charming daughter of the horse-loving judge who owns "The Whip," the jockey who rides and idolizes the horse, and the unsophisticated and pretty sister of the jockey.

Miss Dorothy Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thomas of this city, and Lieutenant Glenn I. Tucker, formerly of Greencastle, Texas, were united in marriage at the Methodist church at San Antonio, Texas, on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Lieutenant and his bride are now on a short honeymoon during the former's furlough and will return to their apartment in San Antonio at 1402 River Ave. to make their home.

The wedding results from a friendship started in Depauw university where Mr. and Mrs. Tucker were students. Mrs. Tucker is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, in this city was a Psi Chi Xi, and for the past year has been engaged in advertising work in Indianapolis, where she met with unusual success in the business world.

Lieutenant Tucker, who is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities, was in newspaper work, having had positions in the New York World and Indianapolis Star. He was commissioned at Fort Benjamin Harrison and recently assigned to Fort Houston, near San Antonio.

Miss Pauline Gosnell entertained with a well appointed dinner party last evening at her home in West Second street, honoring her week-end house guest, Miss Lucile Jackson of Shelbyville. Red candles marked the places for Miss Jackson, Miss Gosnell, Robert Vredenburg and Ray Bird of Shelbyville.

BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back-ache or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Claud Neff and Mrs. Roy Neff, all of Eaton, O., motored here Sunday and were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Houston and family.

Lieutenant Ivan Coyne of Camp Taylor was the guest of honor at the dinner given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Coyne at their home in North Sexton street yesterday at noon. The guests enjoying the sumptuous dinner were Mrs. Will Welch and sons, Robert and Edward, and Miss Margaret Kerr of Connersville, Mrs. John Baheit of Indianapolis and Miss Marie Talbert of Morristown.

Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. Will Dill, Mrs. Sarah Giffin and Mrs. Edwin Payne have returned from Indianapolis where they attended the state D. A. R. meeting at the Claypool hotel.

The Ladies of St. Paul's M. E. church will sew at the Red Cross headquarters tomorrow afternoon.

Y. M. CAMPAIGN IS STARTED TODAY

school at Arlington yesterday morning and at the regular church service at the Arlington Christian church.

The committees in charge of the canvassing are starting unanimously today to cover Rush county and give everyone an opportunity to contribute to the fund. The township chairmen are managing their campaign according to their own plans but practically all are conducting a house to house canvass. Chairman T. M. Green, in charge of the work, says that many farmers have left their corn fields to work for the worthy cause. The sub-committees in charge of the districts of Rushville have met or are meeting today before starting the canvass. B. L. Trabue is at the head of the campaign in this city.

The chairmen have been asked to report to Mr. Green, two or three times during the week, giving him an idea as to how many persons have contributed and what the total subscription is up to that time. The entire county has been organized in a thorough manner.

Secretary Lower placed Theodore Roosevelt in his own Ananias club by calling him a liar. Mr. Lower took exception to a speech by the former president in which he said only men over 41 years of age should be in the Association service because it was a bullet-proof job and a haven for slackers. In refutation of this charge, he said 90 per cent of the Association men were killed in the battle of the Somme. He also declared that he apologized to no man for the work he was in because the

FOUR MORE CARS ARE ORDERED FOR COUNTY

Relief Shipment of Coal For Milroy, Sexton and Carthage Requested by Fuel Head

WILL ATTEND CONFERENCE

Samuel L. Trabue, county fuel administrator, has ordered in four more cars of coal for Rush county through the federal fuel administration for Indiana. The four cars will be consigned as follows: one car each to Sexton and Milroy and two to Carthage. The Rushville dealers informed the county administrator that they thought they had enough coal in transit to meet the immediate needs of their trade.

The first relief shipment of four cars ordered by the county fuel administrator has not arrived, but is expected some time this week. It requires about ten days to get a shipment through. One of them goes to Carthage, one to Falmouth and two to this city.

County Administrator Trabue will attend a conference of county administrators at the federal building in Indianapolis tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock when questions which have arisen since the fuel administration has been at work.

Y. M. secretaries were respected and had access to all branches of the service.

Secretary Lower says the Association tries to take the place of home in the soldier's life. He declared the boys longed for a touch of home life and gave several illustrations.

The speaker asserted that if the men of the army were to vote for the organization they preferred—the Red Cross or the Red Triangle—he would venture to say they would favor the latter. While the Red Cross administers to the body and is indispensable, he pointed out that the Association administers to the body, by providing men with refreshments; to the mind to keep men with nothing to do back of the lines from going mad and to the spirit by leading them to a better life. Mr. Lower said the Association was the one uplifting influence in army life that was devoted to the men's spiritual well being and on how well it is supported depends whether the boys come back clean or a drag on society.

Secretary Lower pointed to the wonderful opportunity which was now open to the church, which heretofore had been refused entrance into Italy and Russia. Now, he said, the Y. M. C. A., the representative of the church on the front, is being begged to send men and equipment to both places.

The speaker asserted the Austro-German drive into Italy might have been averted if the Association had been in Italy to keep up the morale of the troops.

He recalled that the first shell fired by an American battery in Europe was sent across No-man's land by a Hoosier and that Indiana was among the first to raise its allotment in the other campaign. For this reason, he said he was proud of his adopted state and felt sure she would live up to her reputation this time.

M. E. CHURCH GOALS

Three hundred dollars for an Easter offering, 20 per cent increase in membership and an attendance of 80 per cent of the enrollment at some service between now and Easter Sunday were the goals set by the Methodist Sunday school to reach by Easter at the rally day service held yesterday morning. An interesting program was carried out. A talk was made by the pastor, C. S. Black on the goals, and Judge Will M. Sparks made a talk on "Our Debt to the Reformation."

CUTS HAND ON CAR

While cranking his machine yesterday, Ira French allowed his hand to slip and it was severely cut on the number plate on the front of the machine. It was necessary to take a stitch in the wound.

Brazil—Clarence Head, while intoxicated, lay down on the railroad and woke up just as a switch engine was approaching, but not in time to escape being hit. The engine was running slowly and Head was not seriously hurt.
